

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, May 12. 1708.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 8.

Naples, April 10.

THE 5th of this Month Signior Aldobrandini, the New Apostolical Nuncio, took Possession of his Office: He went to his Audience with the Coaches of Cardinal Pignatelli our Archbishop, and was receiv'd by his Excellency Count Thaurin our Viceroy with Marks of Distinction. At the same time a Report is current, that the last Express from Barcelona brought Orders for Sequestering the Revenues of Ecclesiastical Benefices in this Kingdom that are possess'd by Forreigners. A new Edict is publish'd, enjoining the French that remain'd in this City, or who return'd with Passports from the Emperour's Ministers, to depart this Place within 8 Days, and the Kingdom in 15. King Charles III. has transmitted hither a List of the Names of 11 Councillors whom he has appointed to be of the Council of St. Clara, in the Room of those whom Count Martiniz had Establish'd provisionally. An English Man of War of 60 Guns is arriv'd here from Barcelona, with Dispatches from the King for Cardinal Grimani, in a supposition that he was already come hither to take on him the Dignity of Viceroy. Count Thaurin has sent them by a Courier to his Eminency at Rome. On this Man of War we are Shipping 1500 Barrils of Powder, which his Catholik Majesty has desir'd of this City, to be transported to Catalonia. General Caraffa is gone from hence to command the Horse that are on the March into Calabria, to cover that Country as well from the Attempts of the Sicilians, as of the Corsairs of Barbary. M. Villet Collonel of Horse, who commanded in Pescara under the Duke d' Atri, having made his Escape with 7 Officers of his Regiment and Collonel Cordua who were kept Prisoners of War in Salerno, they were discover'd by a Troop of Horse detach'd after them, in a Castle on the Coast where they had hid themselves, designing to pass over by Sea to Sicily: They are put into the Castle del Ovo in this City, and with them the Mariners, that had engag'd to transport them to Sicily. 'Tis said Cardinal Grimani will not come to take Possession of this Viceroyalty till the Emperour has nominated some other Minister to reside in his stead at Rome, and till K. Charles has appointed a General to command the Forces of this Kingdom in the Room of Count Thaurin, whose Equipages are getting ready against his Departure from hence.

From the Amst. and Bruss. Gaz. dated May 11 & 15.

Naples, April 17. Count Thaurin our Viceroy having sent Order to the Towns of Calabria, to provide Quarters and Subsistence for the German Troops that are marching thither to oppose any Descent which either the Turks or Sicilians may attempt to make, the Magistrates of those Towns have sent a Remonstrance to his Excellency, that the Country is in no Condition to furnish Subsistence to those Troops, and therefore intreat they may be quarter'd in other more commodious Parts of the Kingdom; assuring him that all their Inhabitants have provided themselves with Arms, in order to assist the Garrisons of the Forts on the Coasts in defending them against all Enterprizes of the Enemy. Deputies from the City of Capua are come hither, to complain to Count Thaurin of the Disorders committed by the German Troops garrison'd there, and to desire Redress. The English Man of War that came hither lately from Barcelona, is sail'd back for that Port, with 2 Tartans having on board 2000 Barrels of Powder and other Stores which the King desir'd of this City. On these Vessels are embark'd the fine Paintings which adorn'd the Gallery of the Prince de Cellamare, and which being confiscated are sent to his Majesty. The Collateral Council have thought fit to suspend the Execution of the Order that came from the King of Spain, to sequester all the Revenues of Ecclesiastical Benefices in this Kingdom belonging to the Pope's Subjects.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 15.

Genoa, April 22. General Count Guido Staremberg and General Belcastle having imbark'd in two English Men of War, sail'd Yesterday for Barcelona, having with them several other Officers; but General Wetzel who is arriv'd at Milan from Naples, will stay for the Squadron and Transports design'd to carry over the Horse and other Troops to Catalonia. Yesterday at Noon the Duke de Tarsis sail'd from hence with 4 of his Gallies for Leghorn. At the same time we saw 15 or 20 French Ships passing by, with Spanish Troops on board under Major-general Mahoni, for Sicily. The Pope has sent Letters to this Republick, and to the Duke of Tuscany, to exhort them to succour with their Gallies the Island of Malta if the Turks should attack it. The Duke di San Pietro being made Master of the Horse to the Queen Dowager of Spain, will shortly go to her said Catholik Majesty at Bayone. This State having resolv'd to fortify Savona, have sent for M. Guerini, principal Ingenier of the Grand Duke, from Florence, to have his Judgment touching the Works propos'd to be made. Brigadier Don Placido Dentice, a Neapolitan, is arriv'd here from Madrid; and 'tis said will go over to Barcelona to offer his Service to King Charles. The Germans have begun to throw Bombs into Porto-Longone, and the Spanish Garrison in Porto-Ercole continue to defend themselves vigorously.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 15.

Turin, April 28. 'Tis believ'd General Staremberg and M. Belcastle are by this Time arriv'd at Barcelona, the Wind having been very fair for them. According to our last Advices from Spain, the Enemy there are in no Condition to put in Execution the Projects they had form'd.

London, May 12.

Letters from Lisbon of the 9th of May N. S. which arriv'd Yesterday, Advise, that Sir John Leake sail'd from thence for the Streights, ten Days before, with 30 Men of War and several Transports, Several Gallies are arriv'd in the Downes from the Streights. They came out 19 in Company, and most of them are arriv'd.
